DETAILS

Depart the San Francisco Bay from Sausalito on a de Havilland DHC-2 Beaver and overfly the Golden Gate bridge on your way up the spine of the Mayacamas Mountain Range. Take in the sights of Napa Valley & Sonoma Valley, located in the foothills of the Mayacamas. As you travel north you will ascend and pass over Obsidian Ridge, among the highest elevation vineyards in the North Coast, located in the middle of a volcanic region littered with obsidian.

As you circle to land onto Clear Lake, the largest freshwater lake in California, you'll pass right by Mt Konocti, rated by USGS as the 33rd most active volcano in the U.S. And that's only where the adventure begins.

Two words for this adventure: priceless & unforgettable.
